Position and grant

Scuola Superiore Sant'Anna announces a call to assign one Research Fellowship to perform research activities related to the scientific field AGR/02 – Agronomy and Field Crops, at the Crop Science Research Center. The gross amount of the fellowship is € 23.097,00 per year. The duration of the research fellowship is 12 months, renewable in case of positive evaluation of the research activities performed.

Research Activity

- Research title “Modelling of conjunctive use of surface and groundwater in the context of the Water - Energy- Food – Environment NEXUS.”
- Research description “The research activities imply the application of hydrological modelling tools integrated into GIS systems (FREEWAT platform and USGS MODFLOW and OWHM codes) to case studies within the H2020 PRIMA NEXUS-NESS project (<https://prima-nexus-ness.org/>; Work Package 4). In particular, the simulation tools will be applied to the case studies of the Duero Basin (Spain), the Cornia River plain (Italy), Wadi Jir (Tunisia), and Wadi Nagamish (Egypt). The research activities will concern the joint use of surface and groundwater with particular reference to agricultural water use. Data analyses, conceptual model building, and numerical model implementation will be at the core of the research work. Simulations of dedicated scenarios will conclude the modelling work along with report drafting and scientific paper writing. Participation to field activities in Italy will be required (groundwater and surface water monitoring and other experimental activities; Work Package 3) and also at the Italian NEXUS Ecosystem Lab (work Package 2). The implemented tools will then be transferred after a training period (WP3) to the partners of the H2020 PRIMA NEXUS-NESS project. Advanced skills in spatial data management through GIS applications and numerical modelling of groundwater and relationship with surface waters are required. The research fellow will participate in project meetings and conferences and congresses on the topics of research activities.
