

Josh's Water Jobs Sponsorship Prospectus

Why Sponsor Josh's Water Jobs?

The global water sector is at a critical juncture. Aging infrastructure, increasing water stress and the retirement of the baby boomer generation are creating urgent workforce gaps. At the same time, demand for skilled professionals is rising rapidly, particularly in emerging economies and underserved regions.

Josh's Water Jobs (JWJ) is uniquely positioned to address these challenges. As the world's premier job board dedicated to water and sanitation, we connect 34,000+ active monthly users from over 180 countries with thousands of jobs. Our platform bridges geographic, sectoral and generational divides, helping professionals at all career stages find meaningful opportunities and enabling organizations to attract top talent.

Sponsors are not just supporting a platform; they are investing in the future of the global water workforce, advancing gender equity and strengthening the sector's capacity to meet humanity's most pressing water and sanitation challenges.
